Amy,

Attached is a letter regarding National Instruments Corp.'s Rule 3-3 and 3-4 disclosures. In light of the pending motion to compel and National Instruments belief that these disclosures are not due until August 2nd, it will not be producing at this time technical documents relating to the Accused Instrumentalities. Having said that, Cian IP has identified certain products that it believes are relevant, and subject to and without waiver of National Instruments' objections, it has begun gathering technical documents and is working to diligently produce the same.

I will attach the Rule 3-3 disclosures to a subsequent email. However, given the size of those documents, they may be blocked as an email. Cian IP can download those documents and the referenced prior art from a Gardere ftp site. The instructions to do so are enclosed with the letter attached to this email.

Best regards,
Chris
